Holinshed's Account of a Workmen's Song from Dover STC: 13569

p 1546

...Finallie, this summer, being in the yeare of our Lord one thousand fiue hundred eightie and three, was verie hot and contagious, & the infection of the plague that yeare more vniuersallie dispersed through England than in manie yeares before, and that towne verie much subiect therevnto, by means of throughfare and common passage, and had been extremelie visited therewith not long before, so as the towne was abandoned of most men; yea of some of the inhabitants themselues for that cause: and yet God blessed so the works, as in this extraordinarie and populous assemblie, there was in no part of the towne anie death or infection either of townsmen or workmen, which resorted thither from all the parts of England.

And one thing more in mine opinion is to be noted and commended herein, that is to saie, that in all this time, and among all these people, there was neuer anie tumult, fraie, nor falling out, to the disquieting or disturbance of the works, which by that means were the better applied, and with lesse interruption. For they neuer ceased working the whole daie, sauing that at eleuen of the clocke before noone, as also at six of the clocke in the euening, there was a flag vsuallie held vp by the sargent of the towne, in the top of a tower, except the tide or extraordinarie busines forced the officers to preuent the houre, or to make some small delaie & staie therof. And presentlie vpon the signe giuen, there was a generall shout made by all the workers: and wheresoeuer anie court was at that instant either emptie or loden, there was it left, till one of the clocke after noone or six of the clocke in the morning, when they returned to their businesse. But by the space of halfe an houre before the flag of libertie was hanged out, all the court driuers entered into a song, whereof although the dittie was barbarous, and the note rusticall, the matter of no moment, & all but a iest: yet is it not vnworthie of some briefe note of remembrance; because the tune or rather the noise thereof was extraordinarie, and (being deliuered with the continuall voice of such a multitude) was verie strange. In this and some other respect, I will set downe their dittie, the words whereof were these:

The flag of libertie.

® * Or six

O Harrie hold vp thy hat, t'is eleuen* a clocke, and a little, little, little, past:
My bow is broke, I would vnyoke, my foot is sore, I can worke no more.

This song was made and set in Romneie marsh, where their best making is making of wals and dikes, and their best setting is to set a needle or a stake in a hedge: howbeit this is a more ciuill call than the brutish call at the theatre for the comming awaie of the plaiers to the stage. I think there was neuer worke attempted with more desire, nor proceeded in with more contentment, nor executed with greater trauell of workemen, or diligence of officers, nor prouided for with more carefulnesse of commissioners, not with truer accounts or duer paie, nor contriued with more circumspection of the deuisers and vndertakers of the worke, nor ended with more commendation or comfort: sauing that vpon the seuen & twentith of Iulie, being S. Iames his daie, the verie daie when the crosse wall and the long wall met, and were ioined together, and in effect finished (for both wals were brought aboue the high water marke, and nothing remained to be done of the same but highthening, which might be doone at anie time after) sir Thomas Scot the principall piller of that worke fell sicke vpon the wals, and was conueied thense in a wagon to his house, where he remained six weeks, more likelie to die than to liue, whose ladie and wife (being a most vertuous and noble matrone, & a liuelie paterne of womanhood and sobrietie, the daughter of sir Iohn Baker knight, and the mother of seuenteene children) vsed such diligent attendance and continuall care for hir husbands recouerie of helth, as thereby she brought hir selfe into so weake state of bodie, as being great with two children, she fell sicke; and after hir vntimelie trauell, being deliuered of a sonne and a daughter, she ended hir mortall life.

This sickness of sir Thomas Scot, and that which fell out therevpon, was no small discomfiture to him and all his. And the workmen at Douer made such mone for his sicknesse, and also for his absence, that euerie street was replenished with sorrow and greefe; and the people would be comforted with nothing more, nor anie waie be better incouraged to worke lustilie, than to be told that sir Thomas Scot was well recouered, and would shortlie be amongst them againe. And in truth, they translated their barbarous musicke into a sorrowfull song, and in steed of calling to Harrie for their dinner, they called to God for the good health and returne of their best freend sir Thomas Scot, and that with a generall and continuall outcrie, euen in their old accustomed tune & time....

The Murder of Thomas Arden BL: Harley MS. 542 f 36v*

...Thus this wickyd woman w*ith* hir complices moste shamefully murderyd hir owne husband who moste entirely loved hir all his lyfe tyme./ Then she 30 sent streght way for prym & cole ye grocers w*ith* othar londonars whiche were before the dede doynge bydde to come to suppar. whan they cam she sayd I mervayle where Mastar Arden is, well we will not tary for hym, come ye and sit downe we will go to supar, havynge supte, she sayde I merveyll where Mastar arden is so longe, I pray yow let vs goe & play a game at ye tables till 35 he come, I am sure it will not be longe. so they went to ye tables & hir dowghtar playd on ye vyrginalls, & she herselfe daunced till it waxed some what late and ye londonars lefte playnge. and went theyr wayes to theyr lodgyngs. Than sent she abroad to make enquirie for Mastar Arden in dyvers places, namely amonge the best in ye towne where he was wont to be, but 40 they aunswaryd they could tell nothinge of hym. Than she began to make an owt crye & sayde nevar woman had suche neighbowrs as I have, & wept, in so muche yat hir neyghbowrs cam in and found hir makynge great lamentacion pretendynge to marvayle greatly where hir husband was, in so muche that ye maior & others came & made a searche....

Deposition Concerning Thomas Napleton of Faversham
PRO: SP 14/90
f [1]

14° ffebruary 1616
It is pitty that ever this king came to the Crowne of England, for he hath more regard of his dogges then he hath of his subiectes or common wealth. These wordes were spoken by Thomas Napleton of ffauersham aboute five or six yeres since at the howse of the sayd Thomas in ffauershame in the kitchin ther, in the presence of Anthony napleton ye yonger Anthony Napleton the elder deceased william Tomlyn & the wife of the said Thomas
The wordes were spoken vpon this occasion, william Tomlyn was telling of some parte of ^a^ playe, wherin ther was one played the parte of an huntesman in greene apparell, which person was thought to present the kinges person, to whome another actor sayd that he had rather heare a dogg barke then a Cannon rore meaning that person that represented the king, vpon which occasion the sayd Thomas spake as above

town and the Mayor that was before he hath resigned his office shall charge the other Mayor when he is chosen And this other shall be charged that he shall be true and lawful unto the King of England, and to his heirs, and lawfully shall maintain the franchises of the town and rich and poor in one right so help him God and his saints. Kissing the book. And all the XII. Jurats shall do the same. And in case that the Mayor that be chosen be not present to take the charge the Mayor that was before shall not be discharged of his office till the other be charged. And it is so understood that none of the Jurats shall be in the election, but in case that the commonaltie choose to be their Mayor one that is not sufficient to do the office the Jurats shall not accept him, but they shall compel them to choose one that be able and sufficient and if the Mayor that is chosen refuse to take his | charge, all the commoners shall go and beat down his principal messuage and if any be chosen by the simple voice of the Mayor to be a Jurat and he refuse to do that he shall pay unto the same (blank) pence. And the one Key of the money box shall remain with the Mayor and the other shall be delivered up to one of the best Jurats of the town. And in case the Mayor die before the said feast, the Jurats shall sound the horn, what time it be within the year, for their common assembly for to choose another Mayor, the which Mayor then so chosen shall do office until the said feast after the election, and in that case shall the Mayor so chosen be charged by one of the best Jurats, and so soon as the said feast is come, they shall go to their election in the same form aforesaid, and afterwards shall the box, seal and other muniments be borne to the house of the new Mayor.

MAidstone was formerly a very prophane Town, insomuch that I have seen Morrice Dancing, Cudgel playing, Stool-ball, Crickets, and many other sports openly and publickly on the Lords Day; I have heard them jeer, and deride, and mock at those who professed Godliness, and went to hear a Sermon on the Lords Day abroad, when they had none at home. Commonly after the Evening Service, many of them went to the Ale-house, many to walk idly in the Fields. It was their constant custom to ply the conduits on the Lords Day, for the drawing of water. The former vain sinful customes of sports were reformed before his coming, but by his preaching he prevailed with them to forebear vain walking, idling at their doors, also to draw their water on Saturday night, which they should have occasion for on the Lords Day. Though the Town was large and full of people, yet you should hardly see one person in the street after the Sermons on the Lords Day, and I have known when the Mayor hath searched the Innes and Ale-|houses he hath scarce found one of the Town there....

A A Suit by the King and his Bailiff against the Mayor and Jurats

BL: Lansdowne MS. 276

ff 187–95* (16 December)

...

Memorandum that the Barons of the Kings Eschetter send a writt to the Sheriffe of kent Commaunding him by the same to Cause Edward Ryngeley knight Bayliffe of the said Towne to appeare afore them there to make accompt*es* of his Baylywicke, as other Bayleiff*es* of ye said Towne hadd done in tymes past at which tyme the said Bayleiffe did not perfectlie knowe of every manner thing that he ought to Accompte for; And therefore he made Search in ye Record*es* of the Exchequer for the Accompt*es* of othe Bayleiff*es* aforetymes, by the which he well p*er*ceived, and knewe that he was Charged to accompt for divers thing*es* which the said maio*ur* and Iurat*es* have taken wrongfully, and yet doe Receive to theire owne | vse and profitt, That is to saie All the Eschetes and ffynes, fellons good*es* and Catle*s*, land*es* and lastage, All Shippes there amerc*e*ment*es*, the keeping of the ffayre, and the Attachm*entes* of all manner of Persons w*i*thin the said Towne, and the profitt*es* of the Beakens in the Haven, wherefore the said Bayleiffe gave Coppies of the said Accompt*es* out of the said Exchequer, and brought them to ye said Maio*ur* and Iurat*tes*, and soe Shewed them howe they did the king wronge, praying them that they would abide the Order of S*ir* Baron Hayles and S*ir* Christopher Hayles in the Premisses for his discharge, or else he must Complaine vpon them to the Barons of the king*es* Eschetter att ye making of his Accompt*es*, or else he must bee falslie forsworne, which he would not be, neither for them, nor for no man; but they would not be soe Contented, yett because he was loth to trouble any of them, he desired them to be Ordered by S*ir* Gulford their warden, and that they denied; yett after this, before he went | to make his Accompt*es*, he spake to them againe, and desired them to lett two learned men to have the hereing of the same, and badd them to Choose what two they would in all England, And then the said maio*ur* and Iurat*tes* made him plaine

Aunswere, that they had Received such thinge*s*, and soe would they doe whether he would Complaine or noe. And vpon this att making of his Accompt*es* afore the Barons of the Eschetter he shewed what thinge*s* that he hadd Received to the kings vse, and what thinge*s* ye maio*ur* and Iurat*tes* did wrongefullie receive and withhould to their owne vse and profitt, wherevpon the said Barons of the Eschetter by the Councell of S*ir* Norw*ich*, Mr Raddall, the king*es* Serieant*es* and of Mr Lyster the king*es* Attornie did send two Writt*es* of Subpena vnto Iohn Som*er* and Henry Booll late the Maio*ur*s of the said Towne, Commaunding them by the same, to come and make Aunswere afore them of the Premisses, but before ⌜that⌝ any Answere was made the said Iohn Som*er* hadd Broaken his Necke, and the said | Henrie Booll in his aunswere vtterlie denied the receiveing of any manner of thing aforesaid, Wherevpon*n* all ye said Barrons of the Eschetter Commaunded the said Bayleiffe to Receive and keepe possession for the King[e] of all the said Premisses, And alsoe did bind the foresaid Henrie in Recognizance that hee should Suffer ye said Bayleiffe soe to doe, vntill such tyme as the matter were determined betwixt ye King and the aforesaid Maio*ur* and Iurat*tes* of ye said Towne, yett not withstanding the said Bayleiffe hath hetherto ben letted to exercise his said office (and put vnto greivious trouble, [and] greate losse and hinderance to his vtter vndoeing) by ye said Henry, and other of his affinitye, as by Certaine Articles ffollowing plainelie doth appeare.

By these Articles ffollowing it doth playnelie appeare that Henry Booll, Vincent Gingeham and Roger Ma*n*hod were the principall advisers and Cheife beginners of ye greate Ryatt and | Rebellion in Sandwych the xvj^th^ daie of december Anno xviij^o^ ffirst ye said Henrie Rooll being maio*ur* of ye said Towne the last yeere past next before the great Ryott, was ever vsed to have xvj^en^ or twentie light and wyld p*er*sons, which he Called his Beagles, and many night*es* he vsed to goe Round aboute the said Towne and his Beagles following him, and he and all they having noe Clothes vpon*n* them but theire doublett*es* and Hosses, and every of them having two or three Billetts in theire hand*es* hurling att dogg*es* in the Streete, and knocking downe Signes at mens doores running into their howses, swearing and Staring with maney great O⌜a thes to kill and slaye, whoeso durst saye against them, and when they lacked ffyer, they would laye

vpon*n* the ffyer 3: or 4: ffaggott*es* at once, and Cast twoe or three peniworth of Butter among them, for theire pleasure, and whosoeuer durst saye, that they did [a] amisse, should to prison, or els be put in Iop*er*die to loose his liffe./|

Item ye said Vyncent was never Regarded with the said Henrie, vntill such time as he became servant vnto the said Henrie and Called him M*aster* about the Towne with a hoppe sacke vpon*n* his backe, following his Saide M*aster* with a greate Companie of vnlawfull assemblies together with him, and incontynent after this, hee was made, Ellect, and Chosen one of the mayo*u*rs Bretheren Iurate and Alderman of the same Towne./.

Item the saide Henrie vincent diu*er*se tymes sithence the Suite begane have said aswell in Westminster Hall as at home in Sandwich, that they were sure that there would bee mischeiffe and m*or*

And the said Henrie said plainely that he Cared not for his parte, w*hi*ch way the lawe did passe, whether it were with him, or against him, for he was sure the Bayleiffe should never be able to gather any thing of him, nor of his, for he could make all the Towne to Ryse att his | whistle, and he wist well that ye king would not Cast all the Towne awaye, for kylling of one man or two /

Item the said Henry vincent and Roger, vpon*n* Saint Clements daie last past afore ye said Ryott, (when all the Barons of the king*es* Exchequer had Commaunded ye said S*i*r Edward Ryngelie Bayleiffe of the same Towne to gather the king*es* Tol*lag*e in the ffayer, in ye said Towne according to the olde Custome) they by theire meanes [and] procurement, and Commaundm*en*t Caused one Iohn Redd and divers others to the nomber of xx^tie^ Persons, assembled together with sword*es* Bucklers, daggers, Staves and Clubb*es* to walke vpp and downe the ffayer all that daie Craking and swering to kill and Slay whoesoever durst p*re*sume to gather any Penny that daie for the king, and that same night ye said Ryott*es* daunced aboute the Towne in a morrice daunce with sword*es* and Bucklers, and the said Henrie went to the Taverne and gave them wynne./

Item the next daie after, in the morning, when the Serieant*es* of the | said Bayleiffe came vnto the said maio*u*r and his Bretheren openlie in ye Courte Hall there to Complaine vpon these [dem] misdemeanerd Persons, the said Henrie then being maio*u*r and vincent did revile him that did Complaine and Called him false knave, and would have hadd him to Prison, saying to him, that hee Complained too late, and his Complaint should nothing avayle him,

12/ Henrie vincent: for Henry and vincent 31/ Ryott*es*: for Ryotters

And then the Bayleiff*es* Seriant said to them: Masters if yee will see noe redresse in this matter, I will complaine further, and then they did defie him and badd him goe his wayes and doe his worst/

Item within 3. or 4: daies after this was past, the aforesaid henry vincent and Roger with others of their affinitie sent Iohn Egylden theire Towne Clerke to london to hearken what Tyding*es* and what Complaint the Bayleiffe would make thereof vnto the king*es* Councell, and when he came home againe he brought word vnto the foresaid Henrie Vincent and Roger of the Privy Seales, five daies before they were sent downe, and vpon that the aforesaid Henrie vincent and Roger | with others of theire affinitie devised and determined amongst themselves in what manner and wise the foresaid Privy Seales should be Received when they did Come thether./

Item in what manner ye Pryvie Seales were Received my Lord Cardinall and other[s] of the king*es* Councell have something hard tell, But surelie the Principall Cause that ye said Privy Seales should have ben delivered was almost by the meanes and Councell of of the aforesaid Roger, for he said dyvers tymes openlie in the Streete, that he never knewe any man that brought any writts or Com*m*au*n*dm*entes* into that Towne, but that he was Compelled to eat them, and after that throwne into the Haven and bydd drink salt watter to ytt./

Item the said Henry vincent and Roger by theire Com*m*on Serieant Commaunded all the Com*m*ons of the Towne to Ryse and soe made a greate Ryott, and Caused the Towne gates to be Shutt, and the Church dores to be Locked, soe that the Bayleiff*es* Serieant*es*, could neither save theire Lyves by Runing a waye nor by takeing of Sanctuarie/

Item the same daie that this greate | Ryott was, it fortunated that the said Henrie to come downe the Streete, and one shewed him one of the king*es* Privy Seales, which he Spightfully hurled downe in the myre into the midest of the Channell of the Streate vnder feete, openlie before the People:/

Item about ix° of the Clocke in the night following[,] this said Ryott, The said Henrie and vincent did gather to gether xviij or xx^tie^ of the Cheiffe Ryotters (blank) to seeke the said Bayleiffe and his Serieant*es* to have murdered them, and then they went to Iohn Hubert*es* howse, and there Called for wine, and the said Iohn Huberd said to them, Sirs if yee hadd stricken of my head to daie at noone, as you said you would have done, I could have given you noe wine now, By the Masse said Thomas Ienin*ges* if mr Booll speake the word thou shalt loose thy head, even by and by: for even as mr Booll sayeth soe

shall it be, for wee all have bin ruled by him, and soe will wee bee, and the said Henrie Vincent and Roger sate by and Comforted him in his saying and laught at him, and there gave them all wyne enough att the same tyme/ |

Item from thence the foresaid henry vincent withall others the said Ryotters went to three or ffower other Howsses all togeather, and dranck and made Lustie Cheere, and after that they went with ye said Henrie Home to his howse and there made merrie, where he made them all a ffree Banckquett on ye best wise that he Could devise and afterward*es* with a tabber and Pipe playing before them (after ye manner of men of warr) from place to place all the same night where as they went./

Item after ye Banquett was done and past at ye said vincent*es* (blank) maney of ye foresaid Ryotters Coming downe ye Streete by the Howse of the said Bayleiffe, they Called and Cryed for Ladders to assault the said howse, and swore that the Bayleiffe was within, and soe brake his glasse windowes all in peeces to the damage of xxxiij s. and iiij d./

Item after this was done and past, the said Henrie and vincent about midnight, by the Councell of the foresaid Roger, went about the Streetes | againe knocking and Calling divers men out of theire bedds, and soe made a newe assemblie Ryott, In what intent [I knowe not] the said Bayleiffe knoweth not, and about twoe of the Clocke in the Morning they sent forth toward*es* Canterburie Iohn Redde, Thomas Ma*n*god, Thomas Ienyns, Robert ffederygie and will*ia*m Barber with other moe to the nomber of Ten p*er*sons, every of them with Bowe and Arrowes to lye in waytt at Canterbury Town*es* end to have Slaine the said Bayleiffe and his Serieant*es* as they Rodd to london./

Item ye said Henrie and vincent, the xxviijth daie of december next after this Ryott, assembled together 3 or iiij^{xx} p*er*sons about ix of the Clocke in the night, and made a generall procession round about the Towne with minstrell*es* and maney light*es* before them, shouting and singing on this wise, every man that can say his Pater noster, his Aue, and his Creed pray to God for Ryngeley that ill he may speed, and then all the Companie that came after them sange, Amen, as lowde as they could Crye./

Item dyvers night*es* after this, the | said Henrie and vincent did assemble together Certaine light p*er*sons to the nomb*er* of xij or xiiij at a tyme goeing aboute the Streates from one howse to another Seeking and Serching for ye said Bayleiffe and his Serieant*es* to have hurt and beaten them,

24/ Thomas Ma*n*god: for Thomas Manhod; common councillor from St Mary's parish

Item ye said Roger manhod vponn whitson even last past with xvj persons or above with him/ made assault vponn William kemery Serieant to ye said Bayleiffe, and by like would have Slaine him, if that Thomas wyngfeild Comptroller of ye Towne had not saved him, for ye said Roger Cryed and Called soe lowde for more Companie, that ye men that were shooting at the Butt*es* at the Townes end, made so much hast to come to him, that some of them might not tarry to take theire Arrowes but left them sticking in the Butt behind them./

Item vponn whitsun Even last past ye said Roger picked a quarrell and assaulted on[e] William kemery Serieant to ye said Bayleiffe, and Called an ayde of more Companie so that he assembled together the nomber of 14 or 15 persons in notorius manner, and then and there cald the same William false theife, and strucke & put | him in greate feare of his liffe

Item at ye Court of shipway in Iulij last past, when that one Iohn Read and Thomas Ienyns were put to execution, The said Bayleiffe according to the Commaundement of all the Barons of the king*es* Exchequer, sent his deputie to Sandwich there to cease the good*es* of ye said Iohn and Thomas to ye king*es* vse and soe he did, and incontinent after that, the foresaid Vincent Ingraham Came thether with xij or xiij whoe Riotuouslie manessing and Swearing that the bayleiffe nor no man for him should meddle with nothing there neither for ye king*es* vse, nor for the Queenes vse, But said plainely, that he would lett it, and soe bad tell him/

Item the said Vincent Engrham that same night following and divers other night*es* after that, did raise and assemble together Certaine of his affinitie, which he nowe Calleth his whelp*es* and watched and saught the said Bayliffe his Serieant*es*, In what intent I knowe not, the said Baylie Cannot perfectly tell./

Item divers and honest men of the same towne would have Complained vpon the foresaid Henrie Booll, Vincent Engr[a]ham and Roger | Manhod both at the Court of Shepway and afore ye king*es* Councell here-in likewise, but they were stopped by straight Commandment*es* and greate Threatning*es*, or else by Inprisonment and setting in the Stock*es*, soe that nowe every man in the Towne is afraid to tell the truth of theire misdemeanour in the Premisses/

Item the said Henrie, Vincent and Roger Caused one Iohn Parysch of

Item divers tymes and after that, ye said Iohn Road, Thomas Ienyns, [and] Iohn Parrish, Robert ffedregay and Iohn wyld with divers others had Comitted and done the Burglay (blank) The said vincent Henry, and Roger knowing them to have done the same, did Confesse themselves to be partakers and doers of them and kept Companie with them, | and Retayned them in the deed, and gave them money for their labour, biding them feare nothing, for it was theire deed as well as theires/

Item the said Henry Vincent and Roger with other of their affinitie the xiiij^th^ daie of Iune last past, when that the Bayleiffes Officer by the Commaundement of the Barons of the kinges Exchequer had entred and taken possession for ye king in a Certaine Howse, and a Tenement within ye foresaid Towne that was fallen to the kinges Eschete, Incontinent they gave Commandment vnto William Cripps, Robert Brooke, Iohn Bonam, Iohn mammyng Richard Cripps and Iohn Pomfrett riotuouslie did disenter him againe by force, making their Boastes that they hadd disentred the king, and the said Henrie amazed & threatned ye said Officer swearing that he should surelie die for that same one daie/

Item furthermore besides all this, the foresaid Henrie, Vincent & Roger made dyvers assaultes and ffrayes as well vponn ye serieant of ye said Bayleiffe manusing and threatening both him and them with soe many great and greivous Oathes, insoemuch that ye said Bayleiffe could not come | vnto his owne howse, nor within ye said Towne exercise his said Office of Bayliwicke by the space of twoe yeeres, unlesse he and his serieantes should have bine in hazard of their lives, by Reason whereof he hath lost [ho] his howse his stuffe, and in his said Office and in Costes and suite at ye lawe to seeke for Remedie to ye some of CC markes and above, and all by the Craftie meanes councell and procurment of ye foresaid henrie, Vincent and Roger and other of theire affinitie, Inhabitantes of the same Towne, as shall appeare by a Certaine bill of Processe ready to be shewed./

The manner of her highnes Coming to this towne of Sandwich

Memorandum that the last daye of August beinge Mondaye her Maiestie Came to this sayd towne abowt vij of the Clock in the Eveninge at which tyme Iohn Gylbart Maior accompanied with ix Iurates the Townclarke and some of the Comen Counsell receaved her highnes at [Sandowich] Sandowne at the vttermost ende thereof the said Maior beinge apparreled in a scarlet gowne at which place her Maiestie stayed And there the said Maior yelded | vp to her Maiestie his mace And not far from them stoode thre hundreth persons or therabowtes apparrelled in whyte dobletes with blacke and whyt rybon in the sleves black gascoyne hose and whyte [gard] garters, euery of them having a murryon and a calyver or demi Musket having thre dromes and thre Ensignes and thre Capitans viz Mr Alexander Cobbe Mr Edward Peake and Mr Edward Wood Iurates euery of theis dischardged there shott her Maiestie beinge at downes gate. And duringe her Maiesties standinge and Receavinge of the mace the great Ordynance was dischardged which was to the nomber of one hundreth or Cxx and that in such good order as the Quene and noble men gaue great comendacion thereof and sayd that Sandwich should haue the honor aswell for the good order thereof as also of their small shott.
Then her Maiestie went towardes the towne and at Sandowne gate were a Lyon and a d[r]agon all gilt set vp vppon ij postes at the bridge ende and her armes was hanged vp vppon the gate. All the Towne was graveled and strewed with Russhes herbes flages & suche Lyke euery howse havinge a nomber of grene [bowwes] ⌈bowes⌉ standing against the dores and [howse] walles [of] every howse paynted whyte and black. Her Maiestie rode into the towne and in dyvers places as far as her lodginge were dyvers Cordes made of [yve] vine branches with their Leaves hanking crosse the streates and vppon them dyvers garlandes of fyne flowers And so she rode forth till she came directly over against mistres Cripps howses almost as far as the pellicane where stood a fyne howse newly buylt and vaulted over wheron her armes was sett and hanked with tapestrye: [In] In the same stode Rychard Spycer minister of St Clementes parishe a master of Art the Townes orator apparelled in a black gowne and a hoode both Lyned and faced with black Taffatye beinge the guyfte of the Towne accompanied with the other ij ministers and the scole master he made vnto her highnes an oration which followith. which she so well Lyked as she gaue thereof a singuler comendacion sayenge yt was both very well handeled and very Elloquent Then he presented her with a Cupp of gold of a C li. | which Thomas Gylbart sonne to the Maior aforesaid receaved from ⌃Mr⌃ Spycer and he gave yt to the footemen of whome her Maiestie receaved yt and so delyuered yt to Mr Rauffe Lane one of the gentlemen ⌃Equirries⌃ [esquiers] who carried yt. And then the said Mr Spycer presented her with a new testament in greeke which she thankefully accepted And so rode vntill she came vnto Mistres Manwoodes howse wherin she Lodged. a howse wherin Kinge Henry the viij^th^ had ben Lodged twyes before. And here is to be noted that vppon euery post and corner from her first entrye to her Lodginge wer fixed certen Verses and against the Court gate all thoes verses put into a Table and there [and] hanged vpp The next daye beinge a Twysdaye and the first of September the Towne havinge buylded a forte at Stoner on thother syde of the Havon. the Capitaines aforesaid Led over their men to assault the said forte during which tyme certen Wallounds that Could well swym had prepared Two boates and in thende of eche boate a borde Vppon which bordes stode a man and so met together with either of them a staffe and a shield of woodd and one of them did over throwe an other At which the Quene had good sport. And that don the Capitans put their men into a battayle. And [takeng] takeng with them some Lose shott gave the scarmeche to the forte and in the ende after the dischardge of ij fawkenetes and certen Chambers after dyvers assaultes the fforte was wonne/

The next daye viz. the wednesdaye the second of September Mistres Mayres and ⌃her⌃ Sisters the Iurates wyves made the Quenes Maiestie a banket of Clx disshes on a table of xxviij foote long in the scole howse and so her maiestie came thether thorough Mistres Manwoodes garden and thoroughe Mr wooddes also: the ways beinge hanked with black and whyte bayes and in the scole howse garden Mr Isebrand made vnto her an oration and presented to her highnes a Cupp of silver and guylt with a cover to the same well nere a Cubit

highe. to whome her Maiestie answered this. Gaudeo me in hoc natum esse vt vobis et Ecclesie dei prosim and so entered into the scole howse./ | Wheare she was very merrye and did eate of dyvers disshes withowt any assaye and caused certen to be reserved for her and carried to her Lodginge
The next daye beinge Thursdaye and the daye of [our] her departinge against the scole howse vppon the new turfed wall and vppon a scaffold made vppon the wall of the scole howse yarde were dyvers Children Englishe and dutche to the nomber of Cth or vj score all spynning of fyne bay yarne a thing well Lyked both of her Maiestie and of the nobilletie and Ladies And withowt the gate stode all the soldiers with their small shott and vppon the wall at the buttes stode certen great peces. but the chambers by meane of the wetnes of the morninge could not be dischardged The great peces were shott of. and the small shott dischardged thryes. And at her departinge Master Maior exhibited vnto her highnes a supplication for the Havon which she tooke and promised herself to Reade./
My Lord Threasorer my Lord Admyrall my Lord Chamberleyn and my Lord of Leycester were made pryvie to the suyt for the Havon they Lyked well thereof and promised their furtheraunce

Bill of Complaint in Elliot et al v. Whitfield PRO: STAC 8/132/6 mb 2* (8 February)

To the king*es* most excellent ma*ies*tie

Humbly Complayning shewe vnto yo*ur* Highnesse yo*ur* ma*ies*ties Loyall faithfull & obedient subiect*es* Iohn Elliott of Tenterden in the County of kent gent*leman* & Elizabeth his wife & Iames Skeet*es* of Tenterden aforesayd Clothier & Iudith his wife That wheras your sayd subiect*es* have allwayes bin of good fame & name & of good & honest Conu*er*sac*ion* of life & borne of good & honest parentage & have lived in good esteeme & reputac*ion* amongst their neighboures free from all suspition of incontinency or any other Criminall imputac*ion* what so eu*er*. Yet so it is may it please yo*ur* most excellent ma*ies*tie that one Harbert Whitfield of Tenterden aforesayd gent*leman* in or about the eighteenth day of November last past in this fift yeere of your ma*ies*ties raigne of England did malitiously frame & Compose or cause to be framed & Composed a most malitious false obsceane & scurrulous libell in meeter traducing therin amongst many others yo*ur* sayd subiect*es* Iohn Elliott & Elizabeth his wife & the sayd Iames Skeet*es* & Iudith his wife by casting divers aspersions & imputac*i*ons vppon their fame & credit & scandalizing & defaming them in most Contumelious ignominious & reproachefull mann*er* intending & indevouring therby not only to dispoyle them of their good name & reputac*i*on & to bring them into hatred & detestac*i*on w*i*th all their neigboures to make them to be a scorne & a laughing stock to their enemies & a great griefe to their parent*es* & friend*es* but also to make debate strife & dissintion betweene man & wife & to worke seacret distrust diffidence & ielousies betweene them thereby to disturbe their mutuall peace & quiet & to nourish perpetuall Iarres & Contentions amongst them during their liues And further yo*ur* sayd subiect*es* say that the sayd Harbert Whitfield did in or about the sayd eightenth day of November & diu*er*s other times since divulge disperse cast send & deliver abroad or cause to be divulged dispersed cast sent & delivered abroade to divers p*er*sons not only w*i*thin the sayd towne of Tenterden but also in divers other places w*i*thin the County of kent diu*er*s & sundry written Coppies of the sayd malitious false obsceane & scurrulous libell the originals of some of w*hi*ch written w*i*th the hand of the sayd Harbert Whitfield as yo*ur* sayd subiect*es* hope they shalbe able to prove they wilbe ready to shew foorth vnto your highnesse the tenor wherof is as followeth hereafter vnder written. Now for asmuch as the sayd libell is [in it selfe] so slanderous & defamatorye & the offence of libelling is in it selfe so heynous & exorbitant & least others may be animated & imboldened by the impunity of this libeller to perpetuat the like offenses & for as much as likewise ye sayd libell was made since yo*ur* highnesse last most gratious gen*er*al p*ar*don & remaineth now vnpardoned that therfore yo*ur* most excellent ma*ie*stie would be pleased for the reliefe of yo*ur* sayd subiect*es* against such intollerable wrong*es* & iniuries & the reparation of their credit*es* & reputac*i*ons to graunt vnto yo*ur* sayd subiect*es* your ma*ie*sties most gratious writ of subpena to be directed to the sayd Harbert whitfield commaunding him at a certayne day & vppon a certayne payne therin to be limited p*er*sonally to bee & appeere before the lord*es* & others of yo*ur* ma*ie*sties honorable Counsell in yo*ur* Highnesse Court of Starr chamber then & there to answer to the premisses & to stand too & abide such further order therin as to them shalbe thought to stand with equity and iustice And yo*ur* sayd subiect*es* according to their bounden dutye shall euer pray for the long prosperous peaceable & happy gou*er*neme*n*t of yo*ur* ma*ie*stie over vs

Neither good verse good rime nor good prose but as it came soe out it goes

Who sayes our Iames hath made a feast and all the head men were his ghest was Elliott there amongst the rest for setting Skeet*es* his hornes southwest fye fye this is but harsh devinitye this sceane is spilt by Elliot*es* bawderye O hoe what is it then agreede our warden is a Cookold in deede Beshrew me sir yf I say soe that were a slaunder as I troe a foule offence to the consanguinitye

but tell mee friende so mote I thee what may this worthye Elliott bee a man breadd & borne of meane descent & scarse w*i*th his parrentage content brought vp about Bidborow that famous toune in kent where sparrowes dye for hunger and not w*i*th age spent w*hi*ch hath made his person so pittyfull leane that all his witte is not worth a beane then forth he goes in his tender age and became a player on a stage where he learnd to fiddle sing & to dance & like a proud peacock himselfe to advance scorning his betters despising some others but cleaving closely to redbeard his brother then fell he in loue with a propsye young mayd a good yeoman gentlewoman as it is sayd Goody Mistris Skeet*es* and was not a frayd
He woed her he culd her & spake her full fayer & would have begotte of her person an heyer or else there goe lies I promise you he hugd her full softly & layd her crosse the lippes he snapt her & tapt her & stroakte her bare hippes it makes mee smile whie hee did soe 5 then lastly he kist her & so let her goe he lost all his labour in that behalfe for her friend*es* would not suffer her marry the Calfe next that fell his love from her too an other a five hundred pound wenche not farre from his brother 10 hee woed her in seacreat & spake through a trunck as players vse to deale with a punck his Cogging & flatring so farre in her tooke place that now they are married to her great disgrace but alasse poor mopsa shee may well weepe & greeve 15 but now shee sit*es* yeoman like in a taffata hatt her hand*es* doe so worke shee cannot be fatt but see how fortune changes & turnes her swift wheele from a meane man to a player from a player let him reele to a gentleman borne or else a proud bragger 25 then to a yeoman next turne hele turne bagger now Skeet*es* that my love is best to be seme in giving good Counsell in Cases extreame I would have thee love thy wife much the better for y*a*t shee would not have her sowle dye thy detter 30 remember the leake in Tom ffrenches potte how thou stoppedst it w*i*th thy finger let not yt be forgotte & to make her pure & remayne w*i*thout spotte put thy nose in her taile & give her a glister since Elliot hath givne her a lovely suppositer 35 else carry her to Canterburie & there let her purge her

A Calculacion for ye Climat of Tenterden

Thou freeman of this towne that wouldst not have mee frowne
I Reuoll in my gowne doe give this charge to thee Iames Skeetes hath made a feast and headmen all were guest this then is my beehest let him next Iurat bee beet right or wrong or ill I meane to have my will for this hath bin my skill kneele then & yeald to mee Come wardens then present or else you shalbee shent

ffor so is my intent
o deep divinitye
Some great men I do know do bend vnto my bowe and beeleeve that I sowe the more is the pitty
Sing this toth tune of Tenterden
Pack hence a pace all honest men Though once you welcome were to mee the winde is turnde as you may see But to bee sure let vs make decree to keepe then hence that gon now bee but spare this cost what shall it need since that the foxe so well doth speed

The procession at Motindene.

For some lately aliue in this shyre, haue beene eye witnesses, and did right well remember, that yeerely (vpon Trinitie Sonday) the religious persons of this house did vse to muster themselues in a most solemne marche, and pompous procession: wherein, albeit there wanted neither Coape nor Canapie, crosse nor candlesticke, flagge nor banner, light nor incense, piping nor chaunting, neither yet | any other delightfull glittering that might with the glorie thereof amaze the seely beholder, and rauish him (as it were) into a certeine Papishe heauen: yet to the ende that this Pageant of theirs might be the more plausible (in that it had some thing peculiar to it self) their fashion was, to make the Diuel himselfe to beare a part in this play with them.

Holy water chaseth the Divell.

For as they passed along in this array, the maner was, that some one (berayed like a Diuell) should offer to inuade the company, as though hee would take the holy Crosse by force from them: Then on the other side, outstepped some other bolde man (appointed for the nonce) with a holy water sprinckle in his hande, and hee with all his might flang holy water at him: heerewith, this counterfait Divill must fearfully start backward, for doubt of scalding, &c, notwithstanding that he would many times after fare in shew as though he would haue flowne in their faces, yet might hee neuer be so bolde in deede as to approach or come within the fall of any one drop of this water: For, you remember by the olde Prouerbe, how well the Diuell loueth holy water.

1/ nimis: 8 minims in MS

And thus (forsoothe) the vertue of holy water (in putting the Diuell to flight) was confirmed at Motindene by a demonstratiue argument. Which if it be so, then greatly was Saint Paule deceaued in the 6. of his epistle to the Ephesians, where he goeth about to arme vs from toppe to toe against the assaultes of the Diuell: For what needed he | good man to recite Sallet, Shield, Sword, and so many other partes of defensiue and inuasiue furniture, when the Holywatersticke alone would haue serued the turne? Or, at the least, what ment hee to omitte that, being a thing so seruiceable, and easily prouided? But wee must giue these good fellowes leaue (after their woonted manner) to set the Holy Ghoste to schoole: And yet, by the way, I let them weete, that they cannot, Leonem larua terrere, make a Lion afearde with a visor: It is not their aqua lustralis, their holy water (which they haue fetched from Apolloes pot, and nor from the fountaine of Gods woord) that can make this ramping Lion to turne his backe in earnest. Nay rather, let them beware of this his stratageme, and let them consider, that euen in worldly warrefare men bee neuer in more daunger of the enimie, than when hee feigneth to flie before them.

® Holy water, came from the gentiles

® Clerici in conviviis ut se habeant.

Inhibemus ne sacerdotes vel quilibet clerici tabernas frequentent, vel publicis potationibus, aut spectaculis, aut ubi turpia & inhonesta cantantur intersint. Sed si ad convivia fuerint ab honestis personis invitati, ibi sicut & ubique sobrie, modeste, & honeste se habeant; & post prandium sobrie & cito recedant. Et si in eisdem quibus intererunt conviviis inhonesta vel turpia narrentur vel cantentur, si non possunt prohibere; saltem ita se gerant, ne videantur aurem vel animum adhibere...
